

Innovate & Create Santa Fe

2017

about Innovate & Create

The Innovate & Create Camp is an engaging four-week STEM experience. Each week features a different theme that bridges art & technology in fun and innovative ways. This year, two weeks of Innovate & Create will be offered in Santa Fe at the New Mexico Museum of History and two weeks will be offered in Albuquerque at the Museum of Natural History & Science.

Cost: $100 per week for Girl Scout members. Not a Girl Scout? You can still attend! Just register for membership along with registering for this event. Registration deadline is 1 week prior to session. Financial assistance is available.

Who can attend: 6th - 12th grade girls

Limited space is available, register soon!

week 1

Santa Fe, New Mexico Museum of History

Week 1: July 10-14 (10am-4pm)

Learn about important New Mexican women of history through engineering. We'll focus on maker projects using 3D printing, technology, multimedia, and circuitry to make an interactive board game. Become a part of history and part of the History Museum!

week 2

Santa Fe, New Mexico Museum of History

Week 2: July 24-28 (10am-4pm)

Explore electronics and circuitry through music and textiles. We'll use the Santa Fe Opera as inspiration to create futuristic music, sewable electronics, and explore the History Museum's textile collection to bridge the past with the future.
