Celebrate Girl Scouts' 109th Birthday!

Girl Scouts' birthday, March 12, commemorates the day in 1912 when Juliette Gordon Low officially registered the organization's first 18 girl members in Savannah, Georgia. Girl Scout Week is celebrated each March, starting with Girl Scout Sunday and ending with Girl Scout Sabbath on a Saturday, and it always includes Girl Scouts' birthday, March 12. Girl Scout Sunday and Girl Scout Sabbath give girls an opportunity to attend their places of worship and be recognized as a Girl Scout. Whether you're a Girl Scout alum, a current member, a dedicated volunteer, or you simply have an extraordinary Girl Scout in your life, you're an important part of the Girl Scout family. And you know what families do together? Celebrate! Girl Scout Week is definitely something to celebrate—seven straight days to show off your Girl Scout pride and lift up all that this worldwide sisterhood has given you, your community, and the world. Join us in treating each day from Sunday, March 7, through Saturday, March 13, as a day of action focused on a powerful yet simple way to get involved.

Sunday, March 7

Think about your own beliefs this day, and see how they connect to the Girl Scout Promise and Law.

Monday, March 8

Perform an act of kindness! Surprise a friend, family, or stranger with a random act of kindness and make their day. Then, encourage them to pass it on!

Tuesday, March 9

Advocate for a cause! Share with your network about a cause you're passionate about.

Wednesday, March 10

Get out your Girl Scout gear! Wear your vest, sash, t-shirt, and other Girl Scout merch with pride today! Maybe what you're wearing will be a conversation starter for you to tell someone new about Girl Scouts!

Thursday, March 11

Give back to your community. What can you do this day to serve others in your community? It could be as simple as donating to a food bank or picking up trash at a park.

Friday, March 12

It's Girl Scout's birthday! Share what Girl Scouts means to you! Check our social media pages for more fun. Also make sure to attend our Girl Scout Birthday Bash virtual event!

Saturday, March 13

Learn about someone else's faith or beliefs. Take the time to learn something new.
